

Hear Ye! Hear Yee-Haw!

If you had been out to Hayes City on May 14, 2011 you would have seen a bevy of beauties all trussed up and rarin' to go at the RGR Inaugural Ladies Day Shoot. Eleven new shootists were given individual instructions on firearm and range safety, revolvers and long guns.

Some brought guns from home, some borrowed from sweethearts or brought gun gifts that were still buried under the wrapping paper hardly touched until that fateful May morning. World Champ Texas Tiger headed up this lovely posse and was assisted by RGR's other famous prize winning shootists Cat Ballou, Granny Getcher Gun, Lawless Lori Sue, Ima Gunslick, EzGz, and the Sweet Becky Sue and Sweet Lorelei, too!

When asked by this Crier, "Why did you come out today?" the answers were unique and heartfelt: "I have always wanted to do this" "I was too scared of the noise but this isn't sooo bad" "What did you say?" "I didn't like my husband bossing me around while he tried to teach me" "The focus has been on my son but now I think I am ready" "I used to shoot with my Daddy but now...I need to look out for myself" "I've been too busy with school, but this really helps clear your head" "I have done martial arts but I need to know this too."

So where were our Pards during this Girls Day Out? Being the good guys they are, cookin' and cleanin' and flirtin' and skirtin' as close as they could. A special mention should go to Gunslick Willie who grilled the burgers and dogs (which all disappeared down appreciative throats) and Rich Diamond who served hors-d'oeuvres of venison sausage to the ladies on the firing line!!

The goodwill and camaraderie were in abundance and No, dear Reader, have no fear, there were no Accidental Hormonal Discharges...

See you Down Range
